

Robert L. Chatten, 85, Minister Counselor (ret.), holds B.A. with honors in journalism, University of New Mexico; M.A. in communications, Stanford University. Joined USIA in 1959 after being a reporter-editor. Salt Lake Tribune. Served in the Philippines, Japan, Peru, and Bolivia before heading Field Services Branch of VOA Latin American Division. Then UCLA Latin American graduate studies, PAO Ecuador, PAO Colombia, Latin America Area Director, PAO Thailand, Chief Foreign Service Personnel, Senior Seminar, PAO Mexico, Deputy Director VOA. Directed: Interamerican leadership development program for Partners of the Americas, public affairs for Catholic Relief Services, congressional relations for American Foreign Service Assn. Member of USAID contract team in newly independent Moldova, Election supervisor twice (Bosnia, Croatia). Past President USIA Alumni Assn, and Senior Seminar Alumni Assn. Member: Washington Institute on Foreign Affairs, PD Alumni Assn., DACOR, Encore Learning.

'Publications' on PD perse: scripted and produced two half-hour TV programs titled "Public Diplomacy," plus updates, with Global Village Productions, seen nationwide on public access TV.

Other publications: book of memoirs, "Abuelo Tales," 2019; bilingual pamphlet text and photos of Virginia Hospital Center Honduran healthcare mission, 2Q13; edited two book-length Spanish language proceeds of seminars for journalists and radio station managers in Bolivia, 1966-67.

International affairs focus: Trump's impact on how foreigners perceive the United States; immigration.