

Lauren Gibson is a public diplomacy-coned Foreign Service Officer with a background in strategic communications, content creation, and video production. She joined the Department in 2011 and served as a Consular Officer in Lomé, Togo and the Information Officer in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam. She also worked in the Bureau of International Information Programs as a Regional Policy Officer, where she covered South and Central Asia and supported programs in the Bureau of European and Eurasian Affairs, the Bureau of East Asian and Pacific Affairs, and the Bureau of Western Hemisphere Affairs. Lauren currently works as the Deputy Course Coordinator for Public Diplomacy Policy, Planning, and Resources at the Foreign Service Institute (FSI).

Prior to joining FSI, Lauren worked in alternative marketing as an account manager for multinational corporations and as an elementary and high school teacher. Lauren attended American University, where she earned a bachelor's degree in business administration and a master's degree in international affairs. She speaks Vietnamese and French.